

Honorary Diploma Nomination Form

Honorary diplomas are intended to honour individuals whose contributions set a standard of excellence and merit NorQuest College's highest honour. Honorary diplomas are awarded for one of several reasons, including to:

- Recognize an individual's extraordinary achievement,
- Honour service and those who have made a transformative impact on the college or wider society, and
- Recognize individuals who serve as examples to the college's learners.

Recipients are conferred at college's annual convocation ceremony and must be present at convocation. Recipients may use the following phrase in their credentials: "Awarded Honorary Diploma, NorQuest College."

Note: Please do not inform the individual you are nominating. All nominations will be kept confidential until the recipient is announced by the college.

Honorary diplomas are generally not awarded posthumously or in absentia, or to current faculty or staff members, current members of the Board of Governors, or to current holders of political office in Canada.

c. The nominee's service as an example to the college's learners.

Background

NorQuest's Purpose, Strategic Aspiration, and Values

Purpose

At NorQuest, we transform lives. And when we do that, we transform communities, we transform the world, we transform the future.

We create a true global community—a place of belonging—right here at NorQuest.

The question we ask in everything we do is “How will this change lives for the better?”

We are on a quest.

We are difference makers.

We are NorQuesters.

Strategic Aspiration

At NorQuest, we aspire to be a place where people come to transform their lives and find a place to belong. A place where we help make the aspirational attainable, and where there is a path for every learner who comes to us.
